FUNERAL OF THE LATE PRESIDENT CARNOT.

GREAT CROWDS IN PARIS.

ORATIONS AT THE PANTHEON.

EQUIVOCAL SERVICES WORLD-WIDE.

AN EXCITING INCIDENT.

LONDON, July 1.

Crowds of people began to assemble last evening in the streets of Paris to witness the funeral obsequies of the late President Carnot, which take place to-day.

The people remained in the streets all night, and by 3 o'clock this morning the route along which the cortege will pass from the Elysée to the Cathedral of St. Denis was packed.

Everything is orderly.

The funeral passed off without incident. Hundreds of people fainted from the heat and the crush. Funerary services were held in all parts of the world.

In memory of the late President Carnot, the Emperor William has pardoned French officers who were arrested at Kiel in August and sentenced to a term of imprisonment as spies.

The prodigious witness the funeral was, and the spectacle was unparalleled.

Among those who followed the remains were M. Casimir-Perier (the President of the Republic) the foreign representatives, special delegates for royal personages of other nations, and deputies, leading officers of the army and navy, and prominent members of the French Civil Service.

The anguish of the children of the late President was intense, and such as to attract the crowds. Madame Carnot was not present at the funeral.

An exciting occurrence took place in the Rue de Rivoli. The front of the cortege suddenly recoiled, owing to a kicking horse. Instantly there were cries of "bambas," and a panic ensued. Stands were overturned and ladies were trampled on. The cortege halted, and this fact appeared to confirm the report that an attempt had been perpetrated the general feeling of terror in the vicinity increased. It was soon discovered, however, that there was no foundation for the report, and the excitement subsided.

The body of the late President was met at Notre Dame by the Archbishop of Paris, the air surrounding with trumpets and drums.

At the Pantheon, where the body was interred, M. Dupuy, the Premier, and M. Challemel-Lacour, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Senate, delivered orations. The body was buried between the tombs of Victor Hugo and Rousseau.

The cortege was followed by the public of Paris, and the wealth from the Rue de Rivoli required 10 men to carry it.

Being the progress of the funeral cortege several spectators fell from the roofs of buildings upon the heads of the people on the footpaths.

THE ANARCHISTS.

TWO HUNDRED ARRESTS IN PARIS.

LONDON, July 2.

Two hundred anarchists have been arrested in Paris.

A newspaper editor at Leghorn, in Italy, has been mortally stabbed by an anarchist.

It appears that the editor had bitterly denounced the anarchists.

CHINA AND JAPAN.

CHINESE TROOPS ORDERED TO CORREA.

ADDITIONAL JAPANESE TROOPS DESPATCHED TO CORREA.

LONDON, July 1.

It is reported from Shanghai that 20 battalions of Chinese troops have been ordered to Corea forthwith, as there is seemingly small hope of the difficulty with Japan being settled.

Japan has summoned Corea to accept its suzerainty to China and to relinquish the protection of Japan.

An additional 3000 Japanese troops have been despatched to Seoul, the capital of Corea.

China has sent an envoy to Seoul to confer with the Japanese commander.

THE RAILWAY STRIKE IN AMERICA.

THIRTY-TWO RAILROADS AFFECTED.

LONDON, July 1.

The strike of Pullman Car hands in America affects 32 railroads. Much violence has been committed by the men on strike, and trains have been delayed.

Provisions in Chicago have been doubled in price in consequence of the strike, and the farmers are idle.

A force of the United States Federal troops has been ordered to protect the railroads in the disturbed districts, with the view of securing the running of the trains, particularly in the State of Colorado.

The militia has occupied Danville and Denver, in the State of Illinois.

LORD CHIEF JUSTICE OF ENGLAND.

APPOINTMENT OF SIR CHARLES RUSSELL.

LONDON, July 1.

The Right Hon. Sir Charles Russell, one of the Lords Justices of Appeal, has been appointed Lord Chief Justice of England, in succession to the late Lord Coleridge.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE.

LONDON, July 1.

At yesterday's sitting of the Ottawa Conference an animated debate took place on a motion proposed by Sir Henry Wrixon, one of the Victorian delegates, on the subject of reciprocity in trade.

The debate was adjourned.

THE BANK OF NEW ZEALAND.

LONDON, July 1.

The Financial Times commends the action of the New Zealand Government with regard to the Bank of New Zealand.

The Financial Times approves of the Bank of New Zealand Share Guarantee Bill. They consider that it will be the means of greatly strengthening the position of the bank, while virtually creating a State bank.

THE DIFFERENTIAL RAILWAY RATES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The Cabinet considered the Budget proposals to-day. It was decided to have a further percentage reduction on all salaries of Ministers, and on the salaries of public officers. The question of reducing the salaries of the Supreme Court Judges will be considered at the next meeting. It is understood that the salary of the next Governor will be reduced. The annual reductions are to be made in the salaries of the Judges, and in the salaries of the public officers. A reduction will also be made in the municipal salaries.

TASMANIA.

WELLINGTON, Monday.

The press generally commends the prompt action of the Government in settling the Bank of New Zealand, and the action of the New Zealand Government with regard to the Bank of New Zealand.

The Financial Times approves of the Bank of New Zealand Share Guarantee Bill. They consider that it will be the means of greatly strengthening the position of the bank, while virtually creating a State bank.

THE DIFFERENTIAL RAILWAY RATES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The Cabinet decided that the New South Wales Government should be approached with a view to the reduction of the railway rates. It is understood that the railway rates will be reduced. The annual reductions are to be made in the salaries of the Judges, and in the salaries of the public officers. A reduction will also be made in the municipal salaries.

THE RICHMOND POISONING CASE.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

A warrant was issued to-day against Mrs. Needs for the wilful murder of Louis Jenkins. Mrs. Needs' analysis will be finished on Thursday. The second charge of the attempted murder of Herman Jenkins is held in abeyance.

THE AUSTRALIAN FEDERAL CONFERENCE.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The Australian Federal Conference resumed its sittings in the Town Hall to-night, and decided that the name of the proposed League of Victoria should be the "League of Victoria." The conference decided that the objects of the league were to secure the general organization of citizens wishing to advance freedom, to assist all further the cause of freedom, and to assist all further the cause of freedom.

THE MOUNT HUXLEY AFFAIR.

LAUNCESTON, Monday.

In connection with the Mount Huxley affair, there is some dissatisfaction at the non-publication of Mr. Montgomery's second report. It is expected that Mr. Urquhart will move in the Assembly to-morrow that all the correspondence be tabled.

MINING CONFERENCE.

LAUNCESTON, Monday.

Arrangements are in progress for a conference of representatives of all the mining districts to assemble in Hobart during the Exhibition to discuss the question of a reform in the mining regulations.

PROPOSED INTERCOLONIAL PRESS CONFERENCE.

LAUNCESTON, Monday.

At the annual meeting of the Tasmanian branch of the Intercolonial Press Conference, Mr. Pritchard was re-elected president. The report of the membership and the finances were satisfactory. It was resolved to expedite arrangements for an intercolonial press conference during the Hobart Exhibition.

SUDDEN DEATH AT LAUNCESTON.

LAUNCESTON, Monday.

A very sudden death took place in Launceston to-day. Samuel Padlin, aged 40, a clerk in the employ of Gunn Brothers, and formerly station-master at Devonport, dropped dead from heart disease on entering his home. He leaves a widow and three children.

THE REVENUE RETURNS.

BRISBANE, Monday.

The revenue returns for the year and the quarter ended the 30th June have just been issued. For the quarter the revenue amounted to £538,102, being an increase of £13,892 on the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The Customs show an increase of £20,493, and a decrease of £20,000, railways a decrease of £12,000, and a decrease of £12,000, and a decrease of £12,000.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

It is reported that a man named John Collins, aged 35, was stabbed last night at Eureka by Joseph Miller, a well-known local character. The two were quarrelling near the hotel, when Miller, it is alleged, drew a sheath knife and thrust it into Collins' side, near the heart. Collins died shortly afterwards. Miller is in custody.

An inquest was held at Eureka to-day on the body of the murdered man. The evidence clearly showed that the man was killed by a single wound, and a verdict of wilful murder was returned. The prisoner was committed for trial at the next criminal sittings at Port Augusta.

REVENUE RETURNS OF SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, Monday.

The revenue returns for the quarter and the year ended 30th June have been issued by the Under-Treasurer. The figures show that the approximate receipts for the June quarter amounted to £217,413, as against £202,324 for the June quarter of 1893. This brings the total revenue for the year up to £2,510,289, whilst the estimate was £2,613,074, the falling-off being estimated at £102,785. The Customs show a decline of £10,000 in two years. The total receipts this year amounted to £200,330, which was £20,000 less than the estimate. The Customs revenue was not realized by £20,000. The shortage in the railways, the Customs, and the territorial accounts alone represented £179,750 as compared with the estimate. The post and telegraph receipts also fell off by £2370, and the stamp duties by about £1000. This altogether makes a total of £184,000. On the other side the receipts on several other accounts were £200 in excess of the estimate, and thus the total discrepancy between ways and means and the actual figures is accounted for. Most of the lines in excess of estimate duties are £15,000 above the estimate, minimum revenue, £20,000; interest and exchange, £20,000; miscellaneous receipts, £20,000. The quarter's revenue altogether was £253,000 in excess of the estimate for the corresponding period of last year. The expenditure figures for the quarter are not yet prepared, but during the last month for which they are supplied they amount to £21,856,540, so that, if the Treasurer has spent only £20,000 during the last three months, the accounts will come out balanced. The expenditure during the corresponding period of 1893 was £200,000.

"Sunday-school teaching as a means of access to the sacraments is a very important part of the work that ever since we had had anything to do with parochial work he had fully realized the great blessing and benefit of Sunday-school teaching. I need not say to you that I have received absolutely no religious instruction in my own homes; and if they attended Divine service, they would have been in the same way completely devoid of any religious training. I have been a member of the staff of diocesan schools

...the only course was to have the system of religious instruction in the Public Schools which was in vogue in Victoria, the knowledge which could be got in the State schools must necessarily be a very inadequate charade. If spiritual help was to be derived from the school teaching, the only organization in the Sunday school' and method in the teaching. It was necessary that teachers should see the children in their own homes, realize that they were surrounded with spiritual help, and that they were not isolated. The first step was to get a list of representatives of the clergy, who were responsible to Almighty God for the souls committed to their care. Bishop Trask of a long and unblemished career, who had been a vigorous proponent of Sunday-school effort, and gave a good deal of advice to those engaged in it.

After an interval for refreshment, the Rev. W. Martin, living here, took the floor. He read a paper on the subject, "How best to stimulate laity to more conscientious labor and greater efforts in the religious trade." He was a vigorous and self-improvement. Some discussion followed, and
